

COUNTY COUNCIL – 6 FEBRUARY 2018

QUESTION FROM MEMBERS OF THE PUBLIC

1. Question from Esme Needham, Hastings, East Sussex

The World Bank has recently announced that it will stop investing in oil and gas projects from 1 April 2018. Likewise, Norway's central bank – which manages the country's $1 trillion Sovereign Wealth Fund – has recently announced that it will be ditching its holdings in oil and gas, and New York City's five pension funds – with $189 billion of assets – will be divesting from fossil fuels over the next five years. Given these developments, will the East Sussex Pension Fund review its current policy of “engagement” with the likes of Shell, Exxon and BP, and follow the lead being set by New York City?

Response by the Chair of the Pension Committee

The East Sussex Pension Committee reviewed its Investments Beliefs document at its last quarterly meeting, on 27 November 2017. It amended its first belief to read: 'Climate change presents a financial risk to the future investment returns from the East Sussex Fund. However, the impacts of climate change on the returns from the Fund in the future are unknown and the Fund will continue to monitor the risk associated with investment in fossil fuels'.

The Pension Committee continually keeps under review its policy on Environmental, Social and Governance (ESG) and this is included in the Investment Strategy Statement (ISS) which will be reviewed at its next quarterly meeting on 26 February. The Fund will continue to engage with the investment fund managers, through its ownership of assets and will continue to receive support via the LAPFF

2. Question from Peter Newell, Lewes, East Sussex

Is the Pension Committee aware of the recently-launched Lofoten Declaration – signed by over 220 organisations from 55 countries – which recognises ‘the need for immediate and ambitious action to stop exploration and expansion of fossil fuel projects and manage the decline of existing production in line with what is necessary to achieve the Paris climate goals’?

Response by the Chair of the Pension Committee

The East Sussex Pension Committee welcomes the Lofoten Declaration to raise awareness of the need to manage the decline of existing production in line with what is necessary to achieve the Paris climate goals.

3. Question from Zuher Panju, Stoke Association, East Sussex

Will there be any services available for stroke survivors that are accessible to local residents and that will have a stroke focus in place of the Stroke Association if the budget proposals are agreed by the Council?

Response by the Lead Member for Adult Social Care and Health

The proposed cuts by the County Council are 50% of the total funding to the current service provided by the Stroke Association's Stroke Recovery Service. The three Clinical Commissioning Groups (CCGs) in East Sussex fund the other 50% of the service. This means that whilst the service may be reduced there will still be voluntary sector stroke specific services available to stroke survivors and their carers.

No final decision about the funding of this service will be made until a consultation has taken place. As part of this consultation process, which will be undertaken jointly with the CCGs, we will identify which elements of the current service have the greatest impact so that these are maintained as part of a reduced service. We are also asking stroke survivors and their carers to tell us about other services which they know about that provide stroke-specific services and this will help inform our Equality Impact Assessment.

In addition both East Sussex Healthcare Trust and Sussex Community Foundation Trust provide stroke rehabilitation services in the community. Stroke rehabilitation beds are commissioned at Bexhill Irvine Unit and Sussex Rehabilitation Centre. The County Council also, subject to eligibility, supports stroke survivors and their carers through care packages and Direct Payments.

There are also a number of commissioned and non-commissioned services for all people needing help in East Sussex that can provide information and support services to stroke survivors and their carers.

4. Question from Maria Litchfield, Stroke Association, East Sussex

What is the rationale for cutting funding to the Stroke Association service which only 1 year ago gained a new contract because it was deemed to be delivering positive outcomes for stroke survivors?

Response by the Lead Member for Adult Social Care and Health

The County Council is fully committed to doing the very best it can to support and protect vulnerable people, but the hard truth is we have to do that with falling funding and rising demand. After several years of budget reductions we are therefore faced with difficult choices and have to prioritise funding for services that enable us to meet our statutory duties to those with critical and substantial care needs. As a consequence we have no alternative but to consider reductions in the funding of preventative provision, including highly valued services such as those provided by the Stroke Association.

If the County Council does agree to seek savings in this area, we will consult all those affected by the proposal before any final decision is made to make changes to these services. We will also work with the Stroke Association, if the final decision is to remove funding, to ensure the remaining NHS resources are focused on those areas which will most benefit people that need support.

5. Question from Dirk Campbell, Lewes, East Sussex

On 5 December 2017 Councillor Stogdon stated that 'there is no local authority pension fund in this country which has adopted the policy which the questioner suggests (i.e. divesting from fossil fuels) and for very good reason.' In fact both Waltham Forest and Southwark pension funds have publicly committed to divesting from fossil fuels. What is the Pension Committee's position in the light of this fact?

Response by the Chair of the Pension Committee

The Pension Committee's fiduciary duty will always be to ensure that it has sufficient funds available to pay pensions when they fall due.

The East Sussex Fund is a member of LAPFF and receives regular reports and advice from them. The advice from LAPFF and also from the leading ESG policy maker within the LGPS, the Environment Agency Pension Fund, is not to divest from fossil fuel investments but to engage with companies.

The Fund does not comment on the investment decision of others

6. Question from Emma Richardson, Stroke Association East Sussex

How will you ensure that hard to reach groups/ individuals with communication difficulties are truly heard in the consultation regarding Adult Social Care savings proposals?

Response by the Lead Member for Adult Social Care and Health

The stroke specific part of the consultation survey is being designed using aphasia guidelines to ensure this is as accessible as possible. The survey will be posted to all current clients of the Stroke Recovery Service and clients will be offered help to complete this by the Stroke Association. We are also encouraging individuals to submit films or other forms of media if they do not wish to complete the survey.

In addition we are holding three consultation events in East Sussex which are specifically for stroke survivors and their carers and we are working with the Stroke Association to ensure these are accessible. At these events, Stroke survivors and their carers will have the opportunity to complete the survey and there will be additional support available if required.

7. Question from Julia Hilton, Hastings, East Sussex

According to an addition to the minutes of the September 2017 Pension Committee, agreed at last November's Pension Committee meeting, the Committee agreed to 'request that Hymans Robertson provide a report on whether there is a viable low carbon equity fund that could achieve the same or better rate of return compared to other passively managed equity funds.' When will this report be presented to the Pension Committee, and, when it is, will its contents be made public?

Response by the Chair of the Pension Committee

The Hymans Robertson paper on “Proposed equity allocations” was presented at the 27 November 2017 committee meeting, this included a section on low carbon equity funds, and the East Sussex Pension Fund approved the investment of a 5% allocation to UBS Climate Aware World Equity fund. The Committee has also commissioned a report to measure the Fund’s carbon footprint. The provider for this measurement service will be Trucost and they will present to the next meeting of the Committee on 26 February.

8. Question from Fran Witt, Lewes, East Sussex

In answer to a supplementary question from the public on 5 December 2017, Councillor Stogdon refused to acknowledge that, were the East Sussex Pension Fund to divest from fossil fuels it ‘would not be alone in doing so’. Indeed, Cllr Stogdon replied that ‘the answer to this question is no fundamentally.’

How does Cllr Stogdon reconcile this response with the following list of institutions, all of which have made public commitments to fully divest from fossil fuels:

9. Question from Gabriel Carlyle, St. Leonards on Sea, East Sussex

At 5 December 2017 Full Council meeting, the following facts were drawn to Councillor Stogdon's attention:

1) that, according to two recent reports by ShareAction, there is little or no evidence that Shell's board 'has grasped the growing pace of the low-carbon transition [or] its implications given directors' duties to protect shareholders' capital', and that Shell is 'not committed to a credible ... strategy' in line with a 2 degrees Celsius scenario;

2) that Shell's CEO has described the international community's commitment to limit global warming to well below 2 degrees Celsius, with an ambition for 1.5 degrees Celsius, as being in the "realm of the fantastic"; and

3) that Shell continues to be a member of several trade bodies that have taken obstructive positions on climate and energy policies (indeed, in 2016 it was estimated that Shell was spending at least $22m a year on delaying and obstructing climate legislation – see <https://influencemap.org/report/Climate-Lobbying-by-the-Fossil-Fuel-Sector>)

Asked whether these facts actually made Shell 'a prime candidate for divestment', Cllr Stogdon replied, in toto, 'Chair the answer is no.'

Given the above realities, and the fact that, according to the best available analysis (http://2degreeseperation.com/reports/2D-of-separation_PRI-CTI_Summary-report.pdf), approximately 30 – 40% of Shell's upstream capex expenditure will be unneeded – and therefore unprofitable – in a 2 degrees Celsius scenario, why does the Pension Committee not believe Shell to be a prime candidate for divestment?

Response by the Chair of the Pension Committee

The East Sussex Pension Committee agrees with the need to manage the decline of existing production in line with what is necessary to achieve the Paris climate goals'.

The Pension Committee's fiduciary duty will always be to ensure that it has sufficient funds available to pay pensions when they fall due.

The Committee believes that the best way to achieve this is to engage with companies and as a member of LAPFF the committee receives regular reports and advice from them. The advice from LAPFF and also from the leading ESG policy maker within the LGPS, the Environment Agency Pension Fund, is not to divest from fossil fuel investments but to engage with companies.

10. Question from Kim Golding, Stroke Association, East Sussex

The meeting papers state: A high level Equalities Impact Assessment (EqIA) of the revenue savings proposals has been undertaken and is set out in Appendix 7. Further EqIAs will be undertaken where appropriate before individual proposals are implemented – What Equality impact assessment has been undertaken for stroke survivors in East Sussex in relation to the proposed funding reduction to the Stroke Association?

Response by the Lead Member for Adult Social Care and Health

If the County Council does agree to seek savings in this area, we will consult all those affected by the proposal before any final decision is made to make changes to these services. We will also undertake an Equalities Impact Assessment on the proposal. The outcome of the consultation and the Equalities Impact Assessment will then be considered as part of the decision making process.

11. Question from Patricia Patterson-Vanegas, Forest Row, East Sussex

I hear Councillor Stogdon asking for patience in his responses to the questions related to divestment from fossil fuels. I hear urgency in the questions asked to the County Council about divestment, given the fact that carbon contains financial risk and pensioners will pay the cost of any problems arising if the environmental lobby continues to gain momentum. I am always looking for ways forward.

Would it be possible for the ESCC to make a commitment to divestment by allocating a percentage of the fund to divestment as Southwark has done*? It might even be possible to develop a view to increasing this percentage over a period of time in order to reduce the risk to pension holders.

* As a first step Southwark will move £150 million (10% of the total fund) into a Blackrock Low Carbon Target Equity Fund. Southwark might be making this move in partnership with Hackney to help reduce management fees. Southwark is also looking at positive investment in Sustainable Infrastructure funds, including the Global Renewable Power Fund II (also by Blackrock) and Sustainable Opportunities (by Mercer).

Response by the Chair of the Pension Committee

The Hymans Robertson paper on “Proposed equity allocations” presented at the 27 November 2017 committee meeting, included a section on low carbon equity funds, and the East Sussex Pension Fund approved the investment of a 5% allocation to UBS Climate Aware World Equity fund. The Committee has also commissioned a report to measure the Fund's carbon footprint. The provider for this measurement service will be Trucost and they will present to the next meeting of the Committee on 26 February.

12. Question from Sarah Bray, Southdown Housing Association, Lewes, East Sussex

How does the proposal to cut the funding for the Home Works service fit with the Council's responsibility under the Care Act to provide services that prevent, reduce and delay people's care needs becoming more serious, and does the Council fully appreciate the impact these cuts will have in terms of the number of safeguarding issues that will escalate without Home Works involvement, and how reducing the number of vulnerable people who are helped to secure stable housing and better manage their health and wellbeing will increase the number of people rough sleeping?

Response by the Lead Member for Adult Social Care and Health

The County Council is fully committed to doing the very best it can to support and protect vulnerable people, but the hard truth is we have to do that with falling funding and rising demand. After several years of budget reductions we are therefore faced with difficult choices and have to prioritise funding for services that enable us to meet our statutory duties to those with critical and substantial care needs. As a consequence we have no alternative but to consider reductions in the funding of preventative provision, including highly valued services such as those provided by Southdown Housing Association.

If the County Council does agree to seek savings in this area, we will consult all those affected by the proposal before any final decision is made to make changes to these services. As part of this work we will consider how the remaining Supporting People funding can best be used to ensure the Council's Care Act responsibilities are met, risks of safeguarding concerns are minimised and resources are focused on those areas which will most benefit people that need support.

13. Question from Richard Pike, Forest Row, East Sussex

When a financial centre and city the size of New York, following the lead of Paris, Berlin, Sydney and Stockholm and, it is predicted, further US cities to follow, decides it cannot continue to invest its pension funds in the fossil fuel industry, can the ESCC pension committee really justify continuing with an investment policy from a bygone age?

Response by the Chair of the Pension Committee

The Pension Committee's fiduciary duty will always be to ensure that it has sufficient funds available to pay pensions when they fall due.

14. Question from Nicholas Swift, Forest Row, East Sussex

In light of the recent announcement by Lloyds of London, the world's oldest insurance market, that it will start to exclude coal from its investment strategy from 1 April 2018, and the fact that the East Sussex Pension Fund currently holds less than 0.09% of its current equity exposure in coal companies, will the East Sussex Pension Fund follow suit and make a commitment to excluding coal from its investment strategy from 1 April 2018?

Response by the Chair of the Pension Committee

The East Sussex Pension Committee agrees with the need to manage the decline of existing production in line with what is necessary to achieve the Paris climate goals'.

The Pension Committee's fiduciary duty will always be to ensure that it has sufficient funds available to pay pensions when they fall due.

The Committee believes that the best way to achieve this is to engage with companies and as a member of LAPFF the committee receives regular reports and advice from them. The advice from LAPFF and also from the leading ESG policy maker within the LGPS, the Environment Agency Pension Fund, is not to divest from fossil fuel investments but to engage with companies.

15. Question from Tara Galloway, Stroke Association, East Sussex

The Stroke Association's exercise programme sees patients independently walking by the end of its 10 week stroke specific course. In the absence of this course how will you ensure increased mobility for stroke survivors and prevention advice for further strokes?

Response by the Lead Member for Adult Social Care and Health

The proposed cuts by ESCC are 50% of the total funding to the current service provided by the Stroke Association's Stroke Recovery Service. The three Clinical Commissioning Groups in East Sussex fund the other 50% of the service.

No final decision about the funding of this service will be made until a consultation has taken place. As part of this consultation process which will be undertaken jointly with the CCGs, we will identify which elements of the current service have the greatest impact so that these are maintained as part of a reduced service. This will include specific questions in relation to the Stroke Association's exercise programme and the impact this has had on individuals. Until we have received all of those responses we are not able to re-model the future service and therefore cannot decide whether the exercise programme will continue in the future.

The Equality Impact Assessment will look at all elements of the service and assess what mitigations may be in place if elements of the service no longer exist.

We are also currently exploring the piloting of exercise classes for people with long term conditions. If the pilot goes ahead these classes would be accessible and available for stroke survivors.
